

GOSPEL REFLECTION FOR THE FOURTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Thought Word and Deed

Jesus is the 'Good Shepherd' and we are his flock or are we? It's easy to call ourselves Catholics or Christians, but unless we act like it we are only Catholics in name. How can we call Jesus our shepherd or our role model yet not model our behaviour after the most basic of church teachings? How can we be a part of Jesus' flock if we condone violence, ignore poverty or harbour un-Christian attitudes? To be truly part of Jesus' flock we have to be Christians not just in name, but in thought word and deed.

Today Jesus tells us how to live our lives. "My sheep hear my voice; I know them, and they follow me." Hearing Jesus' voice and following him is no easy task. Jesus asks us to follow him in many individual ways. Imagine how sad it would be to meet Jesus on Judgment Day, to hear him say, "Didn't you hear me? I was inviting you to travel the world, open a nursing home research a new drug, become a campaign leader, make a film, write a book, adopt a child, raise funds for a well in a third world country or become a missionary. Weren't you listening?" How would we reply? "Well.... I thought I was listening... but perhaps I was spending too much time watching TV or following Facebook!"

Deciding to follow Jesus might take some radical thinking and a good deal of courage, but for those who make that decision, Jesus promises "... I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish. No one can take them out of my hand."

Bite Size

"When at night you cannot sleep, talk to the Shepherd and stop counting sheep."

News from our Rome Correspondent – "The Easter Octave is over, and we are back in the thick of it as essays, reading and teaching – all of the students here take turns at leading seminars and class presentations – add to the overall workload. But Easter was indeed a blessed time, with all of the Triduum liturgies in-house at the college and being conducted in the spirit of reverence, simplicity and full and active participation by the congregation. We are now enjoying the fruits of Eastertide, and the only slightly worrying aspect of this is the unaccountably tall Paschal candle, which towers around 12 feet over the sanctuary: for what it's worth, I don't think that the daily ritual of lighting it would pass any reasonable health & safety risk assessment, and the rather rickety stepladder used in the process looks less than secure.

For the time being, however, I don't have the dubious honour of carrying out this task. That is reserved for the second year students who were recently instituted as acolytes and so are now involved in most of the serving roles during the liturgy: the ceremony at which second year seminarians become acolytes takes place each spring here at the college, just as the ordination of third years as deacons occurs in June (at the end of the academic year) and the ordination of graduating students from the fourth year as priests occurs shortly after the end of studies in late June or July; this typically takes place in the home dioceses of each seminarian, being carried out by their own bishop.

Us first years have our own milestone next month on May 11th, when we are instituted as lectors (or readers) as the first formal step in our preparation for ministry; and as always I humbly ask for your prayers and thank you for your kindness and generosity in supporting all of the seminarians of this diocese. All of you were very much in my thoughts during Lent and Easter, and I look forward to seeing you again in the summer. Best wishes now and always. In Christ, Mike Brookes, (Currently enduring the heat of Rome, for which I expect no sympathy at all)."

In Eastertide, we recite REGINA COELI in place of the ANGELUS :

Queen of heaven, rejoice, Alleluia.
For he, whom you did merit to bear, Alleluia,
Has risen as he said, Alleluia.
Pray for us to God, Alleluia.
Rejoice and be glad, O Virgin Mary, Alleluia.
For the Lord has truly risen, Alleluia.

Let us pray:

O God, who gave joy to the world through the resurrection of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, grant we beseech you, that through the intercession of the Virgin Mary, his mother, we may obtain the joys of everlasting life, through the same Christ our Lord.
Amen.
